

On behalf of the Editorial Board and the readers of Acta Zoologica Academiae Scientiarum Hungaricae we congratulate Professor László Móczár, our former editorial board member, the renowned hymenopterist, on the occasion of his 100th birthday on the 10th of December, 2014.
Microchelonus (M.) moczari, a new braconid species described by Dr. J. Papp and the paper of Professor L. Gallé et al. are dedicated to him in this issue.
